

DEATH LIST IS GROWING OVER 10,000 DESTITUTE

The Mayor of Galveston Says That At Least 5,000 Lives Were Lost In That City During the Hurricane On Monday.

GHOULS ROB THE REMAINS OF VICTIMS

Living Face Death By Disease and Hunger—An Appeal For Aid Sent Out—City Under Martial Law --Scenes of Horror Appalling.

Galveston, Sept. 11 [Special Telegram]—Thirty ghouls, despoilers of the dead, have been shot down, and a negro who assaulted a woman was killed. The fiend are given no trial, the orders are to shoot, and shoot to kill.

A horde of negro rowdies attacked a squad of soldiers guarding St. Mary's hospital Monday night. Hundreds of shots were fired, and sixteen negroes killed.

Every hour during the night other shooting of negro thieves were reported. Tuesday morning a negro attacked a white woman and murdered her in a most cold blooded manner. Soldiers caught him and blew off his head.

Eight marauders caught looting bodies and wrecking stores on Tuesday night, were killed by the soldiers.

About 50 Ghouls Shot.

In the pockets of ten of the ghouls, fingers and ears with jewelry attached was found. The number of this class that were shot down aggregates fifty.

Captain Charles Clark, a well known vessel owner, who visited all of the city districts, says ten thousand people were killed by the storm and that the newspapers have been too conservative.

The question of food supply is not so pressing as to quantity as to quality. One boat load of fresh food from Houston disappeared in a twinkling upon its arrival.

Lawless Element Rioting

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 12. [Special Telegram]—Passengers arriving on the morning train tell horrible tales of Galveston's situation. Hundreds of desperate men last night roamed the streets crazed with liquor. Robbing and rioting was going on and as the town is in darkness the efforts of the militia to control the lawless elements was not entirely successful.

Boatmen built at various points enable the troops to see better. One returned passenger said what is needed most is fresh water, ice and soldiers and a large number of the latter.

Dead Over Five Thousand.

No competent authority will estimate the dead at Galveston under five thousand but figures double these are looked for when unknown locations are searched. An epidemic is almost sure to follow from the filth and animal matter beginning to decay.

NEGROES STRIPPING THE BODIES

Dead People Robbed and Houses Looted In City of Galveston.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 12—A horrible story is told by Dallas citizens who returned today from Galveston. They declare that negroes and many white persons are hourly committing the most atrocious acts of vandalism.

J. F. Griswold, division freight agent of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe who was in the city during the storm and had a narrow escape from death, said: "Ears and fingers bearing diamonds were hacked off with pocket knives and placed in the pockets of vandals. The bodies of women who wore fine clothes have been stripped of the last thread and left to fester in the sun."

"At Texas City I saw an old man, considerably under the influence of liquor. His pocket protruded a roll of bills as big as my arm which he claimed to have found on the bay shore. On all hands this horrible work is going on. The offenders are generally negroes, although there are some white men."

Vultures Seek the Dead.

Yesterday a brakeman of the Galveston, Houston & Northern left Virginia Point and started to walk toward Texas City. He found a little child which he picked up and carried for miles. On his way he discovered the bodies of nine women. These he covered with grass to protect them from the vultures until some arrangement could be made for their interment.

At Texas City many bodies of dead Galvestonians are also being washed up on the shores of the bay.

Losses in Outside Towns.

Outside Galveston smaller towns are beginning to send in reports as telegraphic communication improves and many additions to the list of dead and property losses are received. Richmond and Hitchcock each report sixteen lives lost. Alta Loma, Arcadia, Velasco, Seabrooke, Belleville, Arcola and many other towns have from one to eight dead. In most of these places many houses have been totally destroyed and thousands of head of live stock killed. The railroads alone will suffer millions of dollars in actual damage, to say nothing of the loss from stoppage of business.

MARTIAL LAW IN GALVESTON.

Death Roll Foots Up to 5,000 Seventy-Five Towns are Wiped Out

Houston, Tex., Sept. 12—Galveston's death list is greater even than the worst estimates previously given. Mayor Jones of the wrecked city this morning said that at least 5,000 are dead, an appeal issued by the local relief committee of Galveston puts the fatalities at 8,000.

while Gov. Sayers of Texas declares over 2,000 perished.

Seventy-five smaller cities and villages are totally wiped out or have only a few buildings standing, and these add 300 or more to the long roll of victims. Entire counties were devastated by the cyclone, not a house or field escaping ruin.

In Galveston the situation is desperate, and prompt and extensive relief alone can prevent an enormous increase in the number of dead. Five thousand families are destitute, while few in all the city have food sufficient for one day.

Pillagers Shot by Guards

Galveston is under martial law, and patrols of armed men walk the streets to prevent further looting. Several negroes caught pillaging wrecked houses and stores, were shot, and it is reported a number of guards were killed in a conflict with the marauders.

The work of disposing of the dead is being rushed as rapidly as possible to prevent an epidemic of disease, which now seems almost avoidable. The bodies lying exposed to the hot sun already are far advanced in decomposition. In the pleas for supplies no coffins have been asked, it being impossible to give the dead even a semblance of Christian burial. All day drays have been hauling the corpses to the water's edge, where they were piled into barges, towed out into the gulf and tossed overboard. As the waters receded great trenches were dug in the sand and scores of bodies buried in each.

Bodies Buried With Debris

A more gruesome method of disposing of the dead adopted today was by fire. Where bodies were found mixed in with the heaps of debris in open places, with the prospect that it would take days to uncover them, the torch was applied and the wreckage and the corpses reduced to ashes. How many have been burned probably never will be known, but at present it is the living who are to be saved, if possible, and the decaying bodies are to be tolerated as short a time as possible.

Hundreds of those maimed or injured in the storm are still without medical attention, and unless drugs and bandages in large quantities are received without delay many of them will not survive.

Corpses Piled Up Like Cordwood.

An eye-witness relates what he saw in these words:

"The corpses are being piled up in big rows, like cordwood. There are no coffins and undertakers' supplies, and great loads of dead are hastened off and dumped into the sea. There is no chance of bringing them on the island. Rich men, poor men, and black men are all mixed up and all treated the same way. All corpses look alike to these workers in the vast dead heaps."

Lime and Disinfectants Needed

Among the articles declared most needed in the latest appeal sent out are lime and other disinfectants. These are wanted to cover the decaying heaps scattered all over the town.

Water is another of the foremost necessities, ranking ahead of food, of which the city is bare, while candles, kerosene, and gasoline are on the list as required without delay.

Clothing and household goods are asked, and it is announced they must be furnished with the least possible delay.

As far as communication is concerned, Galveston might be 100 miles away, for the wires are down, the bridges beyond hope of repair, and the only way of reaching the city is by boat.

Robbers Slain by the Soldiers

A report was current in Houston at 10 o'clock last night that another collision between the troops and the lawless element had occurred because of looting, and that eight more of the vandals have been killed.

The Dallas Rough Riders, a company of the First Texas Cavalry, are under arms at their armory in Dallas, awaiting orders from Gen. Scurry to move to Galveston for duty.

Situation Most Desperate

Adjutant General Scurry, after having personally viewed the situation at Galveston tonight, telegraphed to Dallas relatives and military friends:

"The situation is worse than reported. The number of deaths exceeds the most conservative estimates."

General Scurry is enforcing martial law in Galveston with state troops. Looting began yesterday by the lawless element and extortionate prices by the soulless traders. All goods have been confiscated and a schedule of prices fixed for the public to pay for everything used. Book accounts are kept and settlements made for what things are taken.

GALVESTON APPEALS TO THE COUNTRY

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 11—To the public of America: A conservative estimate of the loss of life is that it will reach 3,000; at least 5,000 families are shelterless and wholly destitute. The entire remainder of the population is suffering in greater or less degree.

Not a single church, school, or charitable institution, of which Galveston had so many, is left intact. Not a building escaped damage and half the whole number were entirely obliterated.

There is immediate need for food, clothing, and household goods of all kinds. If near by cities will open asylums for women and children, the situation will be greatly relieved.

Coast cities should send us water as well as provisions, including kerosene oil, gasoline, and candles.

Mayor.

J. D. SKINNER,

Pres. Cotton Exchange.

TEXAS DEAD AT LEAST 5,000

Officials Make Known the Dreadful Situation There

Austin, Tex., Sept. 12—Official reports to the governor from authorities at Galveston say fully 5,000 people have either been drowned or killed. There have been 2,300 bodies located and buried, and it is estimated that there are fully 1,500 to recover. Increasing crowds from the mainland brought many toughs and the piling of dead bodies was soon discovered. In order to stop this all idlers were forced to go to work at the point of the bayonet. These laborers assisted materially in destroying the wreckage and disposing of the bodies. Many of the bodies lodged in the wreckage of buildings were burned with the debris, as they were too badly decomposed to be moved. The governor of Texas wires that he will receive money contributions himself for the aid of the sufferers.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 12 (by tug to Houston).—Fifteen thousand persons homeless; loss of life will reach far into the thousands. Bodies piled up everywhere. In 13th street, east to the gulf, few houses are standing. The end of the island is totally obliterated. Every building in town is more or less damaged. A thousand small crafts lie wrecked on the shore.

Washington, Sept. 12—[Special Telegram]—The war department this morning received the following from Lourenzo Marques: "Events have required the departure of our attaches from the Transvaal; request instructions. Reichman, captain."

Reichman was United States military attaché with the Boer army. The dispatch is interpreted to mean that the resistance of the South African republic has collapsed, though no definite news has been received.

Boers Flying Before British.

London, Sept. 12—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. His casualties were nine wounded. Buller has reached Kuppel, driving the Boers before him. Several tons of foodstuffs were captured. The Boers threw thirteen wagons filled with ammunition over a ridge of the mountain to prevent capture. Hildyard drove the Boers out of Langwacht."

TO TEST RAILWAY FRANCHISE

Argument in Supreme Court on Validity of Extension Clause

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12—The Milwaukee Street railway franchise case was argued in the supreme court yesterday. The suit was brought by the Linden Land company of Milwaukee to test the validity of the ten year extension of the franchise of the street railway company, on the ground that the statute under which the extension was granted was unconstitutional, and on the further ground that the requirements of the law were not followed in passing the ordinance making the extension.

BRYAN WANTS BUT ONE TERM.

He Will Declare Against Continued Service in Office.

New York, Sept. 12.—A Washington dispatch to the World says:

"Bryan's letter of acceptance, it is stated on excellent authority, will declare he is a candidate for but one presidential term and that the second terms are dangerous to the republic."

"It is understood that Bryan will say that whether elected or defeated, he will not seek a renomination. It is also said that this attitude is partly responsible for the support Olney and Hill are now giving Bryan, each being ambitious to lead the democracy in 1904."

MURDER AT CAMP MEETING

Negroes Start Riot in Religious Gathering, Kill Two and Injure Many.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 12.—A negro camp meeting near Cross Keys in Greenville was broken up last night by a furious riot in which about 100 negroes were engaged. Seven were shot, two are dead and many others cut with razors and battered with clubs. A band of men from the neighboring county of Laurens came over to "clean up" the Greenville people. They arrived at 2 a. m. and caused a panic in the camp where were many women and children. What the feud is about is unknown here.

PATIENCE CEASES

TO BE A VIRTUE

Grievances of Coal Miners of Pennsylvania Must be Corrected or they Will Strike.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—"I will leave tonight and if upon my arrival there tomorrow morning I fail to hear anything from the operators in New York indicative of their willingness to meet us in conference I shall immediately order a strike."

These were the words of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, yesterday afternoon at McCoy's Hotel where he has been stopping for a couple of days.

Patience Has Expired.

"It is with the greatest reluctance that I take this step," continued Mr. Mitchell, "but nothing else remains for us to do. We have exhausted every other means of securing an adjustment of our grievances; we have been patient until patience has ceased to be a virtue; we have postponed taking this final step in order to give the operators every possible opportunity of considering our grievances, but it seems to no purpose, and nothing now remains but to order the men out. It is possible, of course, that the operators will, at the last moment listen to the voice of reason, but I must say the prospect is not encouraging."

Make No Radical Demands

"We are making no radical demands upon the operators. We are simply asking for the remedying of gross abuses. We want a change in the system of docking and in the present sliding scale of wages, which are outrageous pure and simple. We also ask for the abolition of the truck store, and the privilege of selecting our own doctor without having to pay for the services of the company doctor, whether we have him or not."

Believes They Will Win

"We have other minor abuses, but the above are the most serious. We have hoped and believed the operators would recognize the justness of our demands, but in this we seem to have been mistaken. All our men will go out prepared to fight it out to the finish, and I believe we will win."

Mr. Mitchell came here to meet Herman Justi, Labor Commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, to consider some minor causes of dispute in this state. He was unable to do anything because of Mr. Justi's absence from the city.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 12.—Labor leaders report that the order for a general strike in the anthracite field will be given Thursday. The miners claim the strike will be general. The mine operators announce that they have canvassed the situation thoroughly and that not more than one-fourth of the miners will obey the order from the officials of the unions.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 12.—The miners of Shamokin region are wrought up to fever pitch in anticipation of a strike, and if the order to go out comes by Wednesday night the union officials say there will not be a colliery in Northumberland county in operation by Saturday.

Leavenworth, Kas., Sept. 12.—Attorney Frank P. Blair of Chicago, Dr. Carter of Mattoon, Ill., and Dr. Carter of Chicago, uncle and brother of Oberlin M. Carter, formerly an army captain, have been here in consultation with the prisoner, getting his statement, to be used in the trial of ex-Capt. Carter's former partners at Savannah, Ga. Attorney Blair said that if they could get the evidence introduced he had no doubt that the late captain would be exonerated and released from prison.

Rev. J. J. Henderson telegraphs from Chicago that Mr. Banford, Mrs. Henderson's father, died yesterday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will return next Friday.

ALLIES SUSTAIN SEVERE LOSSES

Attack Strong Fortress Near Taku and Are Driven Back.

MAKES WU FEEL HAPPY

He Believes That Li Hung Chang Can Bring About Peace.

PRINCE CHING TAKES A HAND

Berlin, Sept. 12.—[Special Cablegram]—A Shanghai telegram dated Sept. 10 says a mixed force of allies attacked a fortress at Hung Tang in the neighborhood of Taku, and the loss among the allies is reported to be very great, and they were driven back.

Ching Interviews Hart

Peking, Sept. 12.—[Special Cablegram]—The allies marched toward Pao Ting Fu Saturday. Prince Ching has had an interview with Hart, director of the Chinese customs, but the result is kept secret. Ching brought to Peking an imperial decree with special instructions to Hart.

War Cloud Disappearing

Washington, Sept. 12.—When Minister Wu quit the office of Acting Secretary of State Hill this morning at the close of an interview that had lasted upward of an hour, his face was wreathed in smiles. He shook hands in a happy fashion with the newspaper correspondents in the corridor, said that the clouds which have been hanging over China are disappearing and laughed like a man who had had a load of trouble removed from his shoulders.

Wu Is Much Pleased

Mr. Wu found during his chat with Dr. Hill that his own and the plans of Li Hung Chang for the restoration of government and law and order in China, the withdrawal of troops and consequent cessation of military operations and the probable return of the emperor to Peking were progressing handsomely.

The Chinese minister was informed of the president's premonitory command to the adjutant general to order General Chaffee and the American army out of China at the earliest possible moment.

Li Will Be Escorted.

Minister Wu was also informed of the willingness of the United States government to afford Li Hung Chang safe escort to Peking, which will involve his transportation to Taku on board a war vessel and thence up the river and land routes to the imperial city under the safeguard of a company of American marines.

Li has been commanded by the emperor in an imperial edict to proceed with all possible dispatch to Peking to make the city ready for the return in the imperial court. The aged earl is evidently too cunning to undertake the trip on board a Chinese cruiser, which might be attacked and captured by a vessel of any of the allies. Neither is he willing apparently to seek protection under a European flag.

MILITARY DAY AT THE STATE FAIR

FIRST REGIMENT IS REVIEWED BY GOVERNOR SCOFIELD.

Races Yesterday Postponed On Account of Rain, Will Be Pulled Off With the Program This Afternoon—Uniformly Excellent Exhibits in All the Department.

Milwaukee, Sept. 12.—Military day at the state fair formed one of the most attractive and all-around programmes for the season. The postponement of Tuesday's races on account of the storm throws the 2:36 trot, the 2:40 and 2:17 pace over to this afternoon ensuring a speed programme second to none. This, added to the presence of about 1,400 soldiers in camp on the ground, and taken in connection with a uniformly excellent display in many departments, ensured a pleasant time to all who attended.

Fair Opened Yesterday. Yesterday the big fair was thrown open, and notwithstanding the storm the first day's record of a year ago was almost equaled. This, under the circumstances was regarded by the officers as a satisfactory showing and the crowd, too, was well satisfied with what it saw in the many well-filled departments, though deprived by the heavy weather of the track events.

Large Military Encampment. One of the prominent features of the day is the camp arranged at the northwest end of the ground, which will be occupied today and tonight by seven companies from outside points, five local companies, the troops and the battery. Companies arrived from Janesville, Beloit, Fort Atkinson, Madison, Oconomowoc, Monroe, Kenosha and Whitewater this morning and went direct to the fair grounds on the train. The local companies left their respective armories at 8:30 and arrived with Clauser's band.

To Be Reviewed by the Governor. The military will give their maneuvers on the plateau in front of the grand stand and Gov. Scofield and staff will review them at 4:30. Arrangements have been made to have them stay all night in camp, returning home Thursday. They will have their own mess and commissary.

Governor and Mrs. Scofield arrived at North Greenfield station on the Northwestern railroad at 10:30 this morning. A carriage met them and they were escorted to the grounds by the Madison company. The governor addressed the people from the steps of the secretary's office at 11. After that they were driven around the grounds and will be the guests of the fair management until after the review of the troops.

SECURED TWO FIRST PRIZES

The horses sent to the State Fair by Alexander Galbraith of this city make a fine showing among the horses exhibited. He was fortunate in securing two first prizes yesterday for registered draught horses against a large field. He won the first prize for best stallion four years old and over and first on stallions two years old and over. He has a number of horses entered in the other classes and will doubtless get many more ribbons before the fair closes.

The eighteen head sent in from here are the pick of a large number and no better ones can be found in the country. The horses are in charge of Graham Galbraith, who is looking after his father's interests during his illness. In the cattle department F. W. Tratt of Whitewater, Wis., secured a number of prizes. Mr. Tratt has one of the finest stock farms in southern Wisconsin and prides himself on raising only the finest grades of cattle, every one of them being a show animal.

Women Handle Street Car. Wichita, Kas., Sept. 12.—Society women turned out to manage the Wichita street-car system for the day, and right royally they did it, too. But from a financial standpoint it was far beneath their expectations. Band concerts in the park at night helped them out largely; otherwise the scheme would have been a failure. Manager Nelson turned his conductors all off and gave the King's Daughters complete control. They were to have the receipts for the benefit of charity. Many boycotted the line because the women refused to give change.

Society Girl Badly Hurt. Muncie, Ind., Sept. 12.—While on the way to a fashionable wedding Miss Catharine Bray of Noblesville, Ind., leaped from a cab as the horses were running away and received probably fatal injuries. In the cab with her was Miss Mae, sister of former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, but she clung to the rolling vehicle and was only slightly injured by a collision. The news of the accident caused excitement among the hundred assembled wedding guests.

Woman's Death a Mystery. Martinsville, Ind., Sept. 12.—Miss Betta Burkhardt, 45 years old, was found dead on a hill just north of the city. She was well connected. The affair is a mystery. The woman's absence from her home, where she lived alone, had not been noticed by the neighbors. A blue mark behind her ear indicates violence and arrests are liable to follow.

Fire Destroys a Big Plant. Hamilton, O., Sept. 12.—Fire destroyed the five-story north wing of the Columbia Carriage company's large factory, and it was only by hard work that the firemen were able to save the main plant, worth $150,000 or more. The loss was confined to the trimming department and storerooms, and is estimated at $25,000. This is covered by insurance.

WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA. A Prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost Given Up, But Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—Read His Editorial.

[From the Times, Hillsville, Va.] I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. An Iceberg 500 Feet High.

There was one cabin passenger aboard the Leyland line steamship Columbian, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, says the New York Sun, and he might have seen off the banks on Tuesday morning, if he had been an early riser, something that very few passengers of any sort get a glimpse of at sea, a colossal iceberg, computed by Third Officer Roberts to be 500 feet high. Very few bergs more than half that height have been seen in the North Atlantic. The lookout in the crow's nest saw the big berg first and signalled by two bells to the starboard bow. He did not find out until later that the vision was a berg. The Columbian passed eight miles to the south of the ice mass, which was shaped like a sugar loaf. The berg ran the temperature of the air down to 48 degrees and that of the water down to 45 degrees. The officers of the Columbian think that the berg was about an eighth of a mile long.

SCHOOL FOR BLIND IS OPENED TODAY

An Attendance of Eighty Which Will Be Increased—Many Improvements are Made.

The State School for the Blind opened this morning with an enrollment of eighty which will be increased to one hundred and ten by the end of the week. No changes have been made in the case of teachers.

A partial canvass of the state was made during the summer by Miss Curtis, the matron, in the interests of the school and as a result quite a number of blind children were found whose names will be enrolled.

Many improvements have been made by the State Board of Control during the vacation. New cement walks have taken the place of the old walks, the buildings have been put in thorough repair and newly painted.

The kitchen has been enlarged and furnished with oven new range, steam cookers, coffee and tea urns and a modern equipment throughout. A typewriting room with half a dozen Remington machines, has also been added.

The school is recognized as one of the best equipped of its kind in the country, and is a credit to Wisconsin, as are all of her state institutions.

Canal Travel in China.

Travel in China is principally by canal, the greatest of which is the Imperial or Grand canal, connecting Canton and Peking. Innumerable branches passing through countless cities, towns and villages connect the utmost limits of the empire with this main artery of waterways. To overcome the difference of level between two canals, a peculiar and ingeniously constructed glaci, sloping at an angle of 45 degrees is used, and by means of a capstan or two the boat is drawn over until, having passed the point of equilibrium, it is launched into the lower canal. To prevent the boat shipping too much water, a screen of wickerwork is fixed at the bow. The rivers and canals are the real highways of China, and by these hordes of boxers from the inland provinces are now flocking to the coast towns and foreign settlements.

Cleanest in America.

The Lackawanna Railroad is the cleanest railroad in America. Even though it cared little for the comfort of its passengers, which it does, it probably would burn hard coal, for the reason that it owns the most extensive anthracite coal mines in Pennsylvania, and it is cheaper for it to burn hard coal, which makes no smoke, than soft. At any rate, there is no smoke from its locomotives. It is built for the most part through the mountains where rock is the material easiest of access, and its road-bed for that reason is rock-ballasted. There is therefore, no dust. These two things are of unusual interest to the traveler by the line, for the reason that on no other road in the United States is there stronger incentive to keep one's eyes upon the passing scene. It is said of this line truthfully that every mile is picturesque. It traverses the agricultural region of Western New York, the valley region of Central New York, the mountain region of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and every mile offers a view that is beautiful, interesting and entrancing. In point of comfort its passengers are particularly fortunate, for, in addition to there being no smoke or dust, the cars are roomy and scrupulously clean. Sleeping cars, parlor cars and dining cars offer all the conveniences and comforts of modern travel.

WIND SWEEPS CHICAGO.

Gale Blows 72 Miles an Hour—Two Persons Killed.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Chicago had a very hard time keeping on its feet yesterday. For several hours the city stood against a terrific gale which attained a velocity early in the afternoon of seventy-two miles an hour. The dead are: Daniel Brauh, 243 Oakwood boulevard, killed by catching hold of an electric wire which had been broken by falling trees; unknown man, drowned in the lake near 4062 Michigan terrace by the capsizing of a rowboat. Nine persons were injured and seven were rescued from a perilous position on the tug Perfection. Telegraph and telephone service was badly crippled by the storm, and it was said by officials of the various companies that not for fifteen years had Chicago been so nearly isolated from the outside world. The Western Union's fifty-two New York wires were all down, and though lines were patched up by way of Saratoga they worked in anything but a satisfactory manner and scarcely any business could be handled on them. At the Postal the situation was even worse. The company usually has forty New York wires, but last night it had but one, and that by way of St. Louis. Heavy losses for all parts of the city and among vessel owners are reported.

GAZETTE want ads have been the means of solving many a financial problem. Three lines three times, 25 cents

We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

DEMOCRATIC REMEDY FOR TRUSTS.

There are a great many absurd things in the democratic platform, but nothing among them all more unreasonable than the remedy proposed for trusts.

What it amounts to in effect is that the democracy is in favor of the abolition of trusts, but is opposed to any law that will be effective to abolish them. It demands that the whole constitutional power of congress shall be exercised in the enactment of comprehensive laws, when it knows perfectly well that the constitutional restrictions are such that congress could act effectively at the present time. It denounces the republican congress for failure to enact anti-trust laws, regardless of the fact that democratic votes have been recorded almost unanimously against the constitutional amendment which was intended to make such legislation possible. And finally it recommends that the products of trusts be placed upon the free list, regardless of the facts that the worst of the trusts are not subject to international competition, and that for the ones that are to throw down the tariff would be simply to turn production away from Americans and over to foreigners.

If the democratic party undertook to legislate against trusts according to the same principle and with about the same success as when it undertook to establish a Free-Trade tariff for revenue only with the Wilson bill. There were only three troubles with that. It was not a Free-Trade measure at all. It did not furnish sufficient revenue for the country's needs. And it protected every one who had sufficient pull with the Ways and Means committee or the democratic leaders of congress, and it left unprotected enough of the principal industries of the United States to spread ruin and devastation as long as it remained a law. Failure to suppress the trusts and incalculable harm to the business interests of the country would be the result of a democratic experiment in trust regulation along the lines of the Kansas City platform.—Colorado Springs "Gazette."

OUT OF THE BUREAU DRAWER.

Bryan says he wants a republic where the coach owner and the coachman, the mistress and the maid, will have the same chance and share alike in the good things of this life, but unfortunately he neglects to explain how this blessed state is to be brought about. The question is suggested that, in order to be consistent with such views, he should arrange with Adlai in the event of their election to put their respective salaries in a pool and share alike.

The charge of militarism made by the democratic candidate for the presidency is an insult to every American soldier serving under the flag. All soldiers, whether regulars, volunteers or in the militia, are volunteers. They have entered the service of their own free will and accord. None were drafted.

If there were really any danger of empire there would be no democratic, republican, populist or prohibition party. Tariff, silver, whisky and everything else would be forgotten and the entire nation would rise as one man and put it down.

If elected would Bryan call an extra session of congress and urge the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, without which he has repeatedly declared the country would go to ruin?

If free silver is dead Mr. Bryan should not dislike the republican party for killing it, as he has been making lots of money exhibiting its corpse.

The ghost of imperialism is so transparent that even a near-sighted man can see 16 to 1 through its shadowy form.

After all, crop conditions all over the country afford very little material for the calamity howlers.

It will not do to say that the democratic party has been "rehabilitated" merely because it has donated the rage of socialism.

Every prediction of victory made by the democratic leader is coupled with a fervent appeal for party harmony.

AT THE JAHRMARKT IN THE CREAM CITY

QUAINT GERMAN CHARACTERS FILL THE STREETS.

A Peculiar Festival in Milwaukee Reviving the Custom of the Fatherland—How the Germans Drink Beer—Scenes and Incidents On the Opening Day.

Milwaukee, Sept. 12.—The German Jahrmakkt which opened last night on the south side is no mean rival of the State fair. German bands, German beer and German sausages in the real old country style; fairs, the pure product of the American country fair, and showmen who were in Ireland at some time or another, make up the sights outside of the program of street parades, which partake of a mixed attraction, but all to some extent resembling the scenes at the yearly markets given in Russia and other European countries.

Beer Bars Line the Streets

Milwaukeeans who have rarely if ever visited the South Side will be there this week; thousands have already visited the sights, and join praise of the enterprising merchants and others on that side of the river for their thorough work, which will not only be an advertisement for the South side, but give the people from abroad to understand that Milwaukee, the great beer-drinking town of America, is a paradise of good cheer and good order, even though there is so much beer that it is used on Grove street to wash the asphalt pavement.

There were 40,000 people at the beer booths last night, and none can say he met a drunken man. The people of Milwaukee simply do not get drunk; they drink their beer just as they do in Germany.

There are dozens of beer bars in the middle of the street, one of them a block long, but this is not the only thing to be found at the Jahrmarkt. Tradesmen are there with their wares also the widows and others with their kitchens, where a meal or a sandwich can be bought or eaten.

Characters in Costume

Here, promenade up and down the thoroughfare, was Hans with his wooden shoes, his huge china bowl pipe with a long stem and that short waisted and long tailed coat of blue with its bright brass buttons.

There it was that the farmer in the garb of his ancestors of several generations ago led the old brindle cow, with his faithful frau woolen socked and wooden shod trudged along in the rear, and the Deutscher greenhorn of tender years, with long tow hair escaping from beneath the old blue cap of unsightly proportions, stalked along with open-mouthed wonder illuminating every feature of his innocent face.

Here it was that the dainty peasant girl, in quaint and curious combination of colors and ribbons, modestly perambulated in the silvery sheen of the moonlight enhanced by a generous electric illumination.

There were ballad singers fashioned like the melancholy Dane, tramping about and pouring out the love ditties of 300 years ago. There were the discordant sounds of cow bells intermingling to give rural zest to the village, and the man with hot wieners for sale, and a baritone voice with which to cry his wares, combined to complete the picture of rural simplicity.

Booths Brilliantly Lighted

The booths were brilliantly illuminated, and their outline and detail could be studied as well by night as by day. They were thatched with wheat straw, and oat straw, and barley straw, and corn stalks, and there were cucumbers yellow, and cucumbers green scattered over the thatching.

There was a quaint Dutch air about the jahrmakkt, and the disillusion only came from the fact that the decorations consisted of tri colored bunting and miniature and massive copies of "Old Glory."

IMPERIALISM IS A VAGUE FANCY

It is a Shadow, a Dream—Senator Cullom of Illinois Confident McKinley Will Win.

New York, Sept. 12.—"We will whip the democrats out of their boots," said Senator Cullom today. "We will carry Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, North and South Dakota. Prosperity, good times and business activity are the issues that are attracting the most attention in the middle west. The people are getting along well and want to continue to do so. The tariff, sound money; and the policy of the administration which advances the business interests of the country and develops industry are what the people are interested in. There is not much excitement in the campaign yet, but the people are satisfied with the present good conditions and show no disposition, after having been pulled out of the dust and dirt by this administration, to crawl back into it again.

"The people are not excited over this cry of imperialism. They take no interest in it. They don't know what it means. It is a vague fancy of distorted imagination. There isn't anything in it. It is a shadow. There is no more substance in it for an issue than a dream. Such an issue might as well have been raised forty years ago as now. They listen to what the democratic orators have to say on the subject if they don't talk too long. They listen with a sort of curiosity, but if the orators dwell too much upon it they get tired and want to hear something else.

"Little interest is shown in the trust question. The people are doing well, labor is employed, they are satisfied with that, and didn't see anything special in present conditions to get excited about over the trusts. Most of the laboring people say they have got a trust of their own, and they are not especially disturbed. What the people are thinking about is their own welfare and the continued enjoyment of good times which have resulted from the wise policy of the republican party."

HE DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION

Ex-Mayor Thoroughgood Appeals to Board of Fire Commissioners.

FIRE ENGINE WAS SLOW

Somebody Was To Blame For The Choate-Hollister Factory Fire.

FACTORY WON'T BE REBUILT

It is generally conceded in Janesville business circles that there was something radically wrong in the conduct of the fire department during the Choate-Hollister furniture factory fire on Monday.

"Somebody was to blame. That engine should have been ready for a fire," said leading business men this morning.

There is considerable indignation about town over the way the fire was handled, and there is talk of a thorough investigation. Indeed such an examination is demanded by ex-Mayor John Thoroughgood, a large stockholder in the destroyed factory. He said to a Gazette reporter this morning:

"No, I am not taking much concern in the destruction of the Choate-Hollister factory; it would not help it any. It surely is a sad loss individually, as well as to the city of Janesville. We had, after a year's preparation, the business where we wanted it; the prospect was bright for the future. The factory was complete in every detail, and we were assured of its success. Yes, there were sixty people engaged every day, and we wanted more."

"I feel assured had the steam fire engine been there in any reasonable time it would not have happened. The engine was purchased by the city for just such occasions, and the first one offered was a failure. I have always had a personal pleasure in speaking well for our fire department and do so now, but some one is to blame."

"Chief Spencer tells me, he is willing to take his share, but not all of it but the almost wilful neglect of some party is clear and in justice to the manufacturing interests and property owners it seems to me to be clearly the duty of the fire and police board to have a thorough investigation and find where the blame belongs, this duty is for the fire and police board only."

"I do not see any probability of rebuilding. This furniture factory was taken up by myself and a few others, who left nothing undone to get it where it was beyond a venture. Our prospects were bright and with the excellent management Mr. Estes more room had already been talked of and would soon have been the order and that meant more workmen."

"No, we feel we have had enough and the prospect of our putting more money in rebuilding is very remote. We are looser to a considerable amount and think from this out I shall not undertake more responsibilities but be content with my interest on North Main street."

"Yes, I may tell you we had all the work we wanted. Only on the day of the fire a very large order reached us. The want of work was not bothering us any. The factory had a prestige that few factories of this character had, but the poor facilities for fire after a year's time of promises and the unpreparedness of the steamer, not the men, when wanted burned us out completely."

"I cannot say any more. We gave a correct statement and to talk all day there can be nothing new. The Choate-Hollister factory is a total loss, and the loss throws many people out of work. It is costly to the company and the city loses one of the industries that would undoubtedly have been a credit to have in its midst. Yes, I mean just what I say, I believe it the duty of the fire board to investigate. They owe it to the tax payers and I for one hope never to see the same thing repeated as was at the Choate-Hollister factory."

"Since no more employment is possible at the furniture factory, Thoroughgood & Co., is being appealed to for situations by Mr. Estes' working people. Every application makes me feel sorry we have no place for them and knowing them to be a worthy class of workmen shall in this communication say whoever needs help can make no mistake in employing them."

Mrs. Geo. D. Douglas and Daughter Visiting Janesville Relieved by a Telegram This Morning

Mrs. Geo. D. Douglas and her daughter Miss Mabel, of Galveston, Texas, have been visiting Mrs. Douglas mother, Mrs. Thomas E. Stevens, of 156 Line street for some days.

Mrs. Douglas and her daughter left Galveston before the storm and when the news of the terrible disaster reached here were very much worried on account of Mrs. Douglas husband, who is chief clerk in one of the large railroad offices, they not being able to get any news from him. Mrs. Douglas received a telegram this morning from her husband stating that he was safe and their house was all right.

The telegram was a great relief to the anxious ladies and relieved their fears as to their immediate family. Mrs. Douglas said that the death lists published in the papers contain a large number of her friends and personal acquaintances.

She has lived in Galveston about twelve years. Her house was located in the central part of the city on high ground away from the gulf. She had felt all along that if anything was saved it would be the portion of the town in which her home was located. She and

Ben. Wyler, of Milwaukee, is a visitor in this city.

CHARLES BENTLEY of Edgerton, was in the city today on business.

FUND FOR RELIEF OF SUFFERERS FROM THE STORM AT GALVESTON

Many Thousand Poor People in Texas Are Homeless, and Without Money or Food—Relief Fund Opened By The Gazette.

Thousand of people are in distress and want at Galveston and other points on the Gulf Coast of Texas. Immediate relief is asked to prevent starvation and suffering.

Walter C. Jones, the mayor of Galveston, wires the people of the United States today as follows:

"It is my opinion, based on personal information, that 5,000 people have lost their lives here. Approximately one-third of the residence portion of the city has been swept away and several thousand people are homeless and destitute. How many, there is no way of finding out."

"Arrangements are now being made to have the women and children sent to Houston and other places, but the means of transportation are limited. Thousands are still to be cared for here. Immediate aid is absolutely necessary."

The larger cities and towns all over the country have jumped into a relief movement. Janesville should do her share towards the amelioration of this destitution for the sake of American humanity.

The Gazette will take charge of any cash fund, to be sent to the governor of Texas to aid the starving and helpless people at Galveston and other points.

Subscriptions from 10 cents up will be taken at this office towards this relief fund. It is hoped that the charitable citizens of the Power City will subscribe at once as the need is urgent. The subscriptions will be acknowledged in the Gazette as fast as received.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY AT WORK

Over 1800 Orphans and Homeless Little Ones Placed for Adoption Last Year.

Charles D. Merrill, the agent of the Wisconsin Children's Home society, with headquarters at Beloit, was in the city today.

This society is organized and incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin (Section 206 of 1895, amended in section 220 of 1897), to secure approved family homes with supervision, for homeless, neglected, or abused or dependent children in any part of the state.

It is wholly free from sectarian, political or race bias, is broadly philanthropic and humane, and aims to secure good citizenship and save society and the state from the dangers of the homeless class.

Mr. Merrill has just returned from a trip through Europe where he has investigated the condition of homeless and orphaned children. He says the systems over there do not approach by a long way the good methods and results of the Wisconsin society.

Over 1800 children have been given homes in the state during the past year, 76 of which were adopted in this district. He has got six children on his list now which he expects to place soon.

Word will be sent him with Secretary Kline of the Y. M. C. A. will call his prompt attention.

RISE OF THE MANTCHOOS

How They Conquered the Vast Empire of China.

CONSTANTLY ANNOYED BY CHINESE

Battle of the Terrible Blade, in Which the Celestials Were Badly Routed—Hatred of Present Dynasty in Southern Part of the Empire. China's Mild Revenge.

The rise of the Mantchoo race to its present position in the politics and affairs of the world is a wonderful story of courage, battlefield victories, dark treachery and indomitable perseverance, writes John R. Rathorn in the Chicago Times-Herald. In the middle of the fifteenth century the race consisted of three small tribes living near the borders of what is now the Chinese empire, and only escaping the designation of nomads because in the winter months they had some settled home. Even in those days they were known and feared by the surrounding tribes for their daring, their contempt for death and their willingness to run any risk to add to their herds and possessions.

Gradually, as they grew in power and influence, they began to absorb neighboring peoples, until at the beginning of the sixteenth century they had become the most populous and powerful race on the borders of the Celestial empire.

Since their birth as a nation the Chinese had harassed them continually and border troubles had grown thick and fast. A century of persecution bred in the hearts of these people such a hatred of the Chinese race that they gradually began to long for a sweeping and terrible revenge. In the year 1601 the Mantchoos were possessed of a standing army composed of hardy fighters, and for 15 years after that the project of an invasion of China was thoroughly discussed and finally arranged.

In 1616 the forces of the two nations met on the borders, and in what came to be known as the "Yang Wah Su"—the battle of the Terrible Blade—the Chinese were completely routed. The conquerors, crossing the border at its northwestern extremity, ravaged the towns and villages of the empire for hundreds of miles, and in three years had secured and held in subjection a section of territory as large as their own possessions on the other side of the boundary. In 1619 the Chinese, led by Emperor Hui Nang in person, and numbering, it is estimated by the chroniclers of those days, 240,000 troops, advanced to give battle to the invaders. The fight lasted four days, and the Chinese forces were literally cut to pieces. The emperor was killed and half his army was destroyed.

Even after this great victory the Mantchoos felt their way very cautiously. They advanced along toward the interior slowly and deliberately, capturing and pacifying district after district and carefully refraining from any rapid movement in a country densely populated by hostiles. In 1637 a new king ascended the throne of China. Hundreds of thousands of his subjects congregated in the Yang-tse valley for a celebration in connection with his accession. The invaders chose their time and swooped down on them, cutting the dikes of the Yang-tse river and spreading death and desolation everywhere. Aided by the calamity and the menace of a strange and powerful people in their midst, great numbers of Chinese came over to the enemy and openly vowed allegiance to their conquerors. The new emperor was a weakling, with none of the instincts of a soldier, and, believing that the time was ripe for a master stroke, the invaders began to push on to Peking.

In the year 1643 they reached the walls of the Forbidden City, with every foot of the country that lay between them and their own native land not only under subjection, but enjoying a fairly good government. There never was any more deliberate or better planned conquest in the history of the world. Before the Mantchoos advanced from a captured district it had been practically made a part of their own nation. If they could not accomplish this change in one year, they waited five.

In front of Peking the invaders halted two months. One night traitors opened the gates of the city and for 24 hours the thoroughfares ran blood. The palaces and all vestige of Chinese authority were swept away, and before the year was over China's first Mantchoo ruler ascended the throne.

The dynasty has remained there from that day to this. Instead, however, of stamping its impress on the country or bringing with it any changes in the life or methods of the Chinese its Manchu customs have almost completely died out, and the Chinese literature, religion and habits have thoroughly transformed the conquerors. And, more than that, the Chinese have actually overrun Manchuria and so stamped it with the Chinese hallmark that the Mantchoo nation, as a nation, has been practically wiped off the map. Though China has obtained this mild mannered revenge on the invaders, the very great mass of the people have never been reconciled to the conquering dynasty, and the whole southern and southeastern part of the empire, with its teeming millions of people, may be likened to a smoldering volcano, ready at any moment to break out into rebellion and place a Chinese family on the throne. In the whole 250 years since the Ming dynasty began to rule this determination has been kept steadily alive.

The great Taiping rebellion, in spite of all the terrible charges that were laid at the door of the rebels and generally believed, was treated by the European governments in a manner that they are now beginning to realize was entirely wrong. England and France, failing to see in it the uprising of a great national spirit which could never be kept down permanently, sided with the Ming dynasty, and it was this assistance that saved the throne and smothered the rebellion. What has Europe won from it? Only the bitter hatred and scorn of the race that it saved and kept in power. For 35 years the Ming have dealt back dagger thrusts and insults for every kindness showered upon them.

It is the general sentiment among white people who have lived among the Chinese, and who claim to understand some little about their motives and their ambitions, that China will never be in a settled condition until this Ming dynasty has been exterminated or banished once and for all and the old Chinese line of emperors seated on the throne. The great province of Szechuen is the head and front of the Taiping power, a power that is steadily growing and patiently making for its ultimate object—the overthrow of the line that usurped the throne 250 years ago.

The Chinese who stand for a return of the old kings occupy a vast stretch of territory covering an area of 90,000 square miles, with its northern boundary extending 250 miles along the Yang-tse and running south in a regular breadth of from 300 to 350 miles. The provinces embraced in this section of the empire contain from 92,000,000 to 104,000,000 people, and these millions ever keep alive the belief that some day they will be able to rise again and do away with the Mantchoo dynasty.

These people are intelligent fatalists; they never quarrel with facts. And their patience is as deep as the sea. They will wait for the opportunity, and when it comes they will strike. Till that time China will never be at peace.

The man tangled in the tape from the ticker is the type of the average business man. His business cares wrap him about like the coils of a constrictor and slowly crush out his life. The common sign of the business man's slavery is "weak stomach," the natural consequence of the rapid eating, the indigestible pastry, the coffee and pie or doughnuts, with which many a man stuffs his stomach under the name of "quick lunch." The quickest way back to a strong stomach and sound health is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery until perfectly cured. It goes to the root of disease. It removes the cause of ill-health. It makes more blood and better blood, and this blood nourishes every organ in the body to the highest point of vigorous health.

"During the summer and fall of 1896," writes Chas. H. Gergeau, 226, of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio. "I became all 'run down,' nerves were out of order. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and, thanks to you for your advice, I used six bottles; and since I stopped taking it about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good, I can eat three square meals a day, and I do not feel that miserable burning in the stomach after eating. My blood and nerves are in good shape, and I am in good running order."
